

WEST MAY GET SECOND MINISTER

Hon. C. S. Hyman's Place May Be Filled By Man From New Provinces

Toronto, Ont., July 2.—That Ontario stands to lose a portfolio in the coming arrangement at Ottawa is indicated in the statement made here by W. S. Calvert, M. P., of Stratford, chief Liberal whip in the House of Commons.

From this statement it would seem that the cabinet vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. C. S. Hyman, will not be filled by the appointment of an Ontario. It will be given to a Westerner, possibly to a man from one of the new provinces, perhaps from Manitoba.

Mr. Calvert said that, in the first place, that though there had been talk of a number of men, nothing would be done until the return of Sir Wilfrid.

Mr. Calvert then suggested that a Westerner might be appointed. "I think," he said, "that it would serve some consideration. That would be my opinion. Ontario would still have Mr. Patterson."

The whip did not enlarge upon the Ontario cabinet members. Mr. Oakes repeated his statement, made some weeks ago, that there would be no election this fall, and added that there might not be any next year.

Discussing the cabinet, he said that his portfolio he said that the rights of a successor to Mr. Emmerton had not been decided.

Death of Justice Hall. Montreal, Que., July 2.—A cablegram received this morning announcing the death at Montreal, Quebec, England, of Justice Hall, of this city.

Justice Hall, who had been in the province for some time and was seeking recreation in the old city, had been taken to a seat on the bench since 1902 until a short time ago. He was a member of Parliament for the last nine years, and was at one time minister of the war for the whole province.

THREE KILLED; 12 INJURED.

Read. Open Switch the Cause.

Sanbury, Pa., July 2.—Three trainmen were killed, one probably fatally, and twelve and twelve injured, by a collision between a northbound Buffalo Express and a freight train on the Pennsylvania Railroad about two miles south of this city. The freight train, S. J. McElvaine, Williamsport, Pa., between Mary Kay, express passenger, C. J. Bunker, and J. J. Bunker, Williamsport.

The passenger train was probably fatally injured. None of the twelve passengers injured was seriously hurt, and most of them recovered after having their injuries dressed. Many of them returned to give their names. The accident occurred at a place of care and was caused by an open switch.

OVER WELFARE OF HORSES

Second Day's Attendance of the Big Fair Almost Doubles Previous Record

Attendance—Fair Is An Assured Success Financially—Competition Of Horses and Cattle Judging

More than twelve thousand people crowded into the Exhibition grounds Tuesday afternoon, completely shattering the attendance record for the second day last year of the Provincial Industrial Exhibition, and at the same time breaking the previous Fair attendance record by over seven thousand. The marvelous increase in the attendance this year is attributable largely to the filling up of the west, the entire fair ground, and the wider advertising of Alberta's premier exhibition. The attendance record, made on the second day last year, was seven thousand people.

Tuesday was Children's Day, and the large youth of the city and district were in all his glory. He shot the chutes, and were out the seat of his trousers on the spiral tower. There he ate peanuts, and drank pink lemonade on top of them. He did these things as fast as his pockets lasted and then mourned the fact that he had no more money. That fortune had not smiled more kindly on the children of Tuesday.

It is estimated there were over eight thousand visitors in the city. The fair ground was crowded with people from the south, Monday, reaching the fair ground on Tuesday morning, and carrying away with them the memory of the fair. THE JAPANESE PROPOSITION

Introduced At The Hague Referring To Belligerent Ships In Neutral Water

The Hague, July 2.—The six articles of the American proposition to make merchant vessels immune from capture in time of war were practically accepted, although subject to elucidation. The sub-committee on belligerent ships met this afternoon, Mr. Bourgeois, president, and Mr. Chouteau, secretary, presiding.

Holland presented a proposition to strengthen the articles in case of a declaration of war or the opening of hostilities, and also proposed that a declaration of war be notified of a declaration of war. Mr. Chouteau's proposition to add the words "and interned" to the rest of the article powers should be notified of a declaration of war.

DOWN WITH THE INFAMY

One indignation—no far as the Bulletin is aware, only one—at the Fair grounds, in a disgrace to civilization, ought never to have been allowed to stand operations, and should be closed up forthwith. It is a side show operated by a raffish and disreputable crowd, and is an insult to the fair and the genuine amusement of a gift-tongued people.

NOTES AT THE FAIR

Two Beautiful Horses—Prizes in the Fancy Work Exhibit—
An Interesting Alberta Industry.

"Anyone who has not visited the stable of the racing horses has missed one of the really good things at the Fair. There are two Kentucky thoroughbreds down there—Garnish and Leiland—superb creatures, deserving every whit of admiration poured out on them by visitors, as well as of the half-worship of their boyish crowd. Ed Beatty, from "New-old Dublin," Ed has been around the Dominion with racing horses, and he doesn't find Edmonton ideal. His idol, "Garnish"—the satirical-sounding Kentucky race-horse—has won over some of the fastest horses in America, and his groom's young heart is sore. There is one of the best of sweeties in his cup, "Leiland," the beautiful three-year-old, who began her racing career this year, and has come from a tour through the Southern tracks this season, "simply walked off" with the prize yesterday.

Up and down for an hour and a quarter after the brief race, the faithful boy walked his "Leiland" about, until the spirited creature had cooled down from the effects of the wild dash around the track.

Down the line of stalls from "Leiland," a friendly pony from Oklahoma, with her mates Tiger and Fairy. Horses, black, chestnut and sorrel, of many types and temperaments, stood patiently there in their boxes mostly appreciative of the caressing attention of the housewives who found their way there.

The Fancy Work Exhibit. It seems a long way from these living, sensitive creatures at the stable to the exhibits of fancy work at the Fair. The latter, however, are very interesting, and in their way one of the most complete sections at the Exhibition.

It was here that women congregated. At each really good piece of work could be seen some time through the afternoon, two or three Austrian or German women, chatting and with much appreciation and criticism about the merits and demerits of the work.

Particularly fine exhibits were made by Mrs. J. W. Mould, of Edmonton, by the Convent on Tenth street, and by Miss Jean Johnston. Mrs. Mould's collection of work carried off a first prize deservedly. It included a buffet cloth and centre piece worked in silk of warm harmonious shades upon all linen.

These were noticeably good, yet not more attractive in design and finish than the lace cuttings, or the tea-cloth of elaborate drawn work. Over a score of articles were exhibited in this collection, three blouses in drawn work, shadow work and eyelet embroidery, attracting many favorable comments.

Partial List of Prizes. It was not possible as yet to obtain a complete list of prizes in this department, in which exhibits were made from points as far east as Brandon, and even Woodstock, Ontario. A partial list follows:

First Prizes—Best collection of work by one exhibitor—Mrs. J. W. Mould, Edmonton. Collection of Point and Honiton lace, Miss Mabel Cook, Woodstock, Ont.

Child's dress of white silk—Mrs. J. Shaw, Strathcona. Darning on net—Mrs. W. H. Phillips, Edmonton. Darning stocking—Miss Beckett, Edmonton.

Berlin wool work—Mrs. E. F. Brown, Edmonton. Hardanger embroidery—The Convent, Edmonton.

Haltensberg lace—Miss Janet Harley, Edmonton. Crocheted table mats—Mrs. W. H. Phillips.

Collection of drawn work—Mrs. W. H. Phillips. Pillowcase net drawn work—Miss Westbrook, Brandon, Man.

Ten cloths, drawn work—Miss Jean Johnston. Linen, embroidered linen—Mrs. W. H. Phillips.

Bleuse, eyelet embroidery—Miss J. Johnston. Quilt, patchwork in silk—Miss Jean Johnston. Silk cradle quilt—Mrs. W. H. Phillips.

Race mat—Mrs. J. F. Macmillan. Quilt, linen embroidered—Mrs. Hatley. Quilt, crocheted—Mrs. Hatley. Netting—Mrs. E. F. Brown. Crocheted work—Mr. James Corbett. Cross-stitch in linen—Mrs. H. Colburn.

Second Prizes—Embroidery on linen—The Convent, Edmonton. Mount Mellick work—Mrs. Alex. Buisson.

Tea-cup—Miss Emily Whittaker, Bon Accord. Quilt, the piecework—Mrs. W. H. Phillips. Darning stocking—Miss Mouchard, Strathcona. Child's dress—Mrs. Arthur Wheeler, Edmonton. Crocheted work—Mrs. E. F. Brown. Knitting—Edmonton—Mrs. J. Colli-son.

Useful Work. Of the darning of stockings, there were only two specimens exhibited, but these attracted considerable attention and praise. They were good pieces of work, that of Miss Mouchard the first prize winner being a fine piece of material worked in silk in buttonhole stitch.

A notably fine piece of work was the linen doyleish exhibited by Mrs. W. H. Phillips, the white linen groundwork showing up beautifully the spray of American Beauty roses that adorned each corner.

Alberta's Newest Industry. One of the most interesting exhibits at the Fair is the display of macaroni and vermicelli made by Long and Company of Wetaskiwin. Here No. 1 hard and Alberta's machine have been combined to turn out an article that rivals fine imported macaroni dried under Italy's sunny skies. The materials used are flour, eggs and water, and the process by which the macaroni is made is similar to that used in one of the largest Italian factories at Genoa, where Manager Long studied the method.

The Machinery Here. The machinery has been imported from Italy, and at present the output is 1,600 pounds daily. But although established only five months, orders have been coming in from Pennsylvania, Ontario, Vancouver and Winnipeg. In consequence, the supply is inadequate and the management have set out enlarging the plant. When completed this autumn, the factory's output will be five tons daily. The exhibit, which has had not only a large number of samples of this food previously yielded to local merchants, is most creditable. It is put up in one pound packages and large boxes, and complete sets of all varieties of the Royal Macaroni, with fettuccine and spaghetti, and all other color being particularly pleasing.

FORCEA F FAIR SIN CENTRAL AMERICA

President Zelaya's Scheme To Form One Big Republic Has Been Defeated

Core, Honduras, June 27, via New Orleans, July 2.—Within the last few days a new combination has appeared on the Central American chessboard wherein President Zelaya has been joined by several of the republics by means of revolutionary public spirit and one government. The new combination is reported to be Honduras, Guatemala, El Salvador, and Nicaragua. Their understanding was reached at Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Saturday.

The first move of the new combination was to force the evacuation of Honduras by Nicaraguan troops, thereby putting Honduras under the influence of the new republic. Within the last week, been rejected of the menace of the Nicaraguan general, Lora, army, which for many weeks camped in Honduras since a "box" had been sent to the United States. Since the evacuation, the defeat of the former President, Manuel Bonilla have been returning to their country and some of them have been in on missions to Tegucigalpa, which is very significant. It is reported that Zelaya did not yield to the demands for evacuation until his envoy Gomez, who recently conferred with President Diaz of Mexico, refused the refusal of Diaz to act with Nicaragua in an attack upon Guatemala.

REACTIONISTS GETTING BUSY

Murdered The Would Be Assassin Of Count Witte, Great
Russian Diplomatist

St. Petersburg July 2.—From revolutionary sources there has been obtained and published full details of a sensational reactionary plot to compass the murder of Count Witte, the Russian premier, who represented his country at the peace negotiations at Portsmouth in 1905. This assassination was planned by the Moscow branch of the Union of True Russian People, the organization to which the emperor sent a communication June 27th, conveying his blessing to the ultra-reactionary party and his hopes for the success of its purposes.

The execution of the plot was entrusted to the leader of the Moscow branch, a man named Krasnov, who came to St. Petersburg the latter part of May, and secured employment in a factory as a common laborer. He befriended several of his fellow workers after announcing himself as an anarchist, he enlisted him in his conspiracy. It was planned to throw a bomb at Count Witte's carriage from the window of a cheap boarding house on Kanunov Island, while the Count was on his way to attend a meeting of the council of the empire. The plot, however, was betrayed by the revolutionaries' bureau, which gave Count Witte warning. The four workmen continued to pretend loyalty to Krasnov in order not to arouse his suspicion. The day for the assassination was fixed, and that morning Krasnov told his supposed assistant to a secret place to get the bombs from a secret place, but at this point the four men turned on Krasnov and killed him, carrying out the sentence of death passed upon him. The revolutionaries, by the facts in their possession secret, in order to aid the police in identifying the murderers of the young man, who was found in a wood in the suburbs of this city, June 31st, with his throat cut and who was supposed to have been executed by fellow terrorists as a spy.

Through the aid of certain telephone numbers this crime has been traced to some well known leaders of the Black Hundred organization of Moscow. Today the procurator of Moscow announced the finding of Krasnov and found considerable compromising material. The widow of Krasnov up to the present time had been ignorant of the fate of her husband. It is hoped that the information obtained will give a clue to the murder of Dr. Jellie, editor of a newspaper of Moscow, who was shot and killed by a bullet from an unknown man and thrown light on other murder plots.

A SALESMAN "BEYOND COMPARE."

Taking it by and large Mr. George W. Foster, Conservative M.P. for Kings and Albert, N.B., appears to have been the most uniformly and phenomenally successful member of the "Fosterian" cult. He appears to have unloaded more property on the Union Trust Co. and to have relieved them of more surplus cash than any one else on record. Indeed it is not recorded that he ever tried to sell the Trust Co. anything and failed, or that he was ever forced or asked to take less than he demanded.

George does not owe his success to the smallness of his operations or the feebleness of his ventures. On the contrary, there was always "something doing" in that quarter, and usually something of more than ordinary proportions. Nor did he confine his attention to a single line and rely on practices to produce perfection. He took up the cause of the "manure heap" and appears to have been equally at home in securing "the best that is going" from Sir Thomas Shugborough, and in negotiating with Peter King for duplicate agreements of sale.

Certainly he never resorted to cutting prices to force sales, though the temptation must have sometimes been strong. When the C.P.R. land deals were on the carpet for instance, the syndicate had put up their cash—$60,000, and had raised $100,000 more on the endorsement of McKinnis & Munro to complete the down payment. A few weeks later they were obliged to get McKinnis & Munro's backing for $400,000 more, and still there was $50,000.00 due only a month ahead. Where was this to come from? Would McKinnis & Munro have been against? Would the C.P.R. wait? And if not, what would happen? Well, pretty nearly anything might happen. The strain must have been terrible. The sale must be made in a month. But did George cut prices? Not a bit of it. He marked the property up $1.00 per acre and conducted the deal as coolly as though he had eternally to play on and no interest charges.

To be sure there was one feature in his favor. His customers had ample funds and had also very generous views regarding prices. They never were broke nor had run; neither did they quibble or hanker. With the resources of the Forsters at their command they were not disposed to count a dollar here or there of much consequence. They simply paid over the money and took the goods. What more could a salesman ask? Allowing for this, there is credit coming to George W. History does not record that he was ever worried in a financial bout with Mr. Foster or that he ever leveraged the Union Trust in vain.

THE STRINGENCY IS GENERAL.

That the stringency of the money market affects the Eastern cities as well as those of the West, and affects them quite as much, is shown in the difficulty experienced by the city of Halifax, N.S., in raising money for civic purposes. Tenderers were invited not long since for some $800,000 worth of city debentures at 4 per cent. Only 100,000 tenders were received. The civic estimates were cut in half and tenders again invited, when about half the sum was tendered for and that at 5 per cent.

Halifax is one of the oldest cities in one of the wealthiest and most prosperous of the Eastern provinces—a seaport, with every opportunity for development and expansion. Its enterprise should therefore very fairly reflect the condition of the money market for municipal debentures. Apparently, therefore, Western cities are not handicapped or embarrassed beyond those of the older provinces in their efforts to secure funds on satisfactory terms.

ON THE SIDE.

The Winnipeg Sentinel sees a "creaky" about the policy of Mr. McRae which is sometimes irritating to the plain man. The "plain man" of the Unionist party is doubtless meant.

Calgary Herald: "The Edmonton Bulletin speaks from a column to a column and a half daily making digests of the Royal Insurance Co."

"In some proceedings, making them editorial at that. If anyone read those post mortems the preparation of them might have some justification." If the Herald thinks so, it reads the article it would have no objection to their publication. Its course bespeaks only a consciousness that the public are taking a very real and lively interest in the performance of the "Fosterian cult."

What to Drink
A most important question. What to drink concerns every human being, especially where conditions of local water supply are not good.

You could make good money
as a "CAPITAL" agent

Some CAPITAL agents are busy farmers. Some are creamery helpers. One of the best ones is a minister. They make good money, and they don't have to work too hard to make it. They make clean money, because the CAPITAL happens to be the cream separator it isn't necessary to get the about. The plain truth sells it.

This spring we are expanding our field force—adding a few good men to our agency staff. Possibly we can fit you in, if you are the right kind of a man. You needn't be a dairymen expert; and you needn't put up a cent of money. You can do your other work and sell the CAPITAL besides, if that's the way you'd rather have it. It will add much to your year's earnings, even that way.

Or you can make a business of the CAPITAL, — a good business, — substantial, permanent, profitable, and on the square all through.

We want ten good men
Suppose YOU write

There are ten districts or so, right now, where a good man can start in and sell CAPITAL Separators to people who are ready to buy them just as soon as the machine is demonstrated to them. Each of these districts is for the right man, and he can have the work to himself. But he must be the RIGHT man,—truthful, honest, clean cut, with good common sense.

For that man there's just as much money, in reason, as he wants to earn under a liberal, square-deal arrangement. We will protect him in his field, supply him with the names of people ready to

The right man can learn all this quick; and he can learn, too, how we make the CAPITAL boy himself in a very few months. The selling terms are the easiest kind of terms. The guarantee back of every CAPITAL machine absolutely protects the customer and gives the agent a feeling of security, straighten chance, this for the right kind of a man to take the easy way. It's a fair thing. The CAPITAL does that for every man who buys.

Think it all over,—remember you are not called on to invest a cent,—you will show you how and where to sell the CAPITAL,—protect you in your district,—and hand you over a paying business that will profit you well for as much or as little time as you feel you can give it.

Think it over, and no matter where you live—write to

two lives. It may be conceded that this is not a fair day's wage for men who work in mills and smelters, but the work, especially in the smelters, is arduous and the long hours dangerous to the health of the operatives. The mills run night and day, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. The men at the mills receive $2 per day of eight hours.

Why Governor Peabody Called Out the Militia.

At the inception of the strike Governor Peabody had called out the militia, largely, he stated, as a precautionary measure. He was concerned by many for what was considered hasty action. It was claimed that there had been nothing more serious in Colorado City than a few street brawls. The newspapers at the time contained accounts of eight different assaults, but it was claimed that these were magnified. There is no doubt there was considerable violence, and that Governor Peabody had called out the militia—probably through defective sources—fearing threats of greater violence. The men employed in the mills were said by Governor Peabody himself to be industrious and law-abiding; many of them owned their own homes and were men of family, having lived in the country for periods ranging from one to fifteen years.

The strike, which resulted later in cutting out the mines at Cripple Creek, 40 miles away, in sympathy with the mill men, was finally settled on March 21, 1936, and was celebrated in Cripple Creek by the ringing of bells, the blowing of brass whistles, and by the music of brass bands, which paraded the streets. The terms of settlement at Colorado City were that eight hours would constitute a day's work in and around the mills; that there should be no discrimination between union and non-union men; and that the strikers should, within a given time, be reinstated. These terms had been agreed to by the other mill-owners before the Cripple Creek miners had been called out. But Manager MacNeill of the United States Reduction and Refining Company had refused to agree to all the terms, basing his objection upon the fact that there were certain Western Federation men whom he would not re-employ under any circumstances. This difficulty was finally alleviated through the good offices of the Cripple Creek mine-owners and Governor Peabody and his "commission."

Less than three months later President Moyer of the Western Federation resigned the whole discussion by making the claim that Manager MacNeill had not in good faith lived up to his agreement. He insisted that some of his men had not been given their former places. Governor Peabody's commission, which seems to have been fair, decided against President Moyer and looked upon his contention as trivial in view of the distressing consequences of a resumption of the strike.

The Federation "Kicks Over." Notwithstanding, President Moyer again called a strike on the mills at Manager MacNeill. It was claimed by disinterested parties that the officials of the Federation were dissatisfied with the original settlement and used a pretext to "kick over" the whole arrangement. Their plans at the time contemplated "universal" strikes conditions in the Federation. The original settlement seems to have been perfectly satisfactory to the mill men themselves, a great majority of whom bitterly resented the subsequent interference of the Federation leaders. In order to make this strike effective the unionists called all the mills in the Cripple Creek district which were shipping ore to the United States Reduction and Refining Company mills were called out. Ninety per cent. of the Cripple Creek miners were opposed to the strike. A committee was selected by them to confer with a like committee at Colorado City, with power to act, but the miners had no idea that they would be again called out. When its committee was selected it was discovered that they were all men close to the head offices of the Western Federation. Some of the miners thought they had been tricked.

Non-Union Miners Arrive.

On August 15th the El Paso mine resumed operations, mostly with non-union men. The mine was guarded by armed men, and a barricade in the shape of a fence ten feet high was built around the shaft-house. No attempt was made at the time to man the other mines of the district. On the night of August 20th the shaft-house of the Sunset-Eldorado mine was destroyed by fire. Believed at the time to have been of incendiary origin, the crime was charged to members of the Western Federation. On September 2nd Ed. Minter, a prominent union man, who before that time and since has figured in many questionable doings, was arrested charged with assault. Minter was released by Sheriff Henry M. Robertson the sheriff and most of the other county officers were members of the union while an information was being prepared against him by the District Attorney. Sheriff Robertson, with menacing language, insisted that the strikers were too slow in drawing the papers. His under-sheriff was more truthful, but just as loyal. "We can't afford to antagonize a whole lot of people," he said.

Justice of the peace at Arapahoe, a small man with grey whiskers, an was assaulted from behind on the main street of Arapahoe in midday and beaten. He had discharged a sword at the El Paso mine when he was accused by union men of carrying a concealed weapon. The justice did not think the weapon was concealed. On the night of the same day that Hawkins was assaulted, the Justice of the Peace, J. M. Stewart, 50 years old, an inflexible non-union character, who owned his own house and who had been for years building a fence around the Sunset-Eldorado mine, was shot in his house, in the presence of his wife, by four masked men, cruelly beaten with a pistol ball, captured and denounced as a scab, and finally shot the back. He lay for days at the hospital at Victor recovering from his wounds.

On September 2nd, the day following these occurrences, Governor Peabody, being requested by Major E. D. French of Victor (a portion of the mine-owners and general manager of the Rio Grande Ore Smelting Company), sent a committee to the Cripple Creek district to investigate and report whether there was need for troops. This committee consisted of Brigadier General John C. Chase of the state militia, Lieutenant T. M. McCallum, a lawyer and advocate of the militia, and Attorney General N. C. Miller. The first-named two members of the committee were afterward prominent in the military life of the district. This committee arrived in the Cripple Creek district late in the evening and left at 7 o'clock the next morning. Their only conference was with the mine-owners and their representatives.

Though Sheriff Robertson was called in toward the conclusion of the conference, and questioned, he never, reported by telegraph to the Governor advising a call for troops. While Governor Peabody's committee was holding its conference with representatives of the mine-owners at Cripple Creek, the Governor Peabody himself and Adjutant-General Sherman Bell were held in conference in Denver with E. A. Colburn, President, and W. H. Bainbridge, treasurer of the mine-owners' association. Governor Peabody initiated at this time his "Army and Navy" Journal. If the militia should be called out the mine-owners' association should provide the funds for the necessary expenses of the soldiers while in the field. Contributions to the Federation bearing four per cent. interest, were to be made by the state for the advance of these funds. A similar agreement was made with the mine-owners during Governor Peabody's visit whenever troops were called. This arrangement, which virtually placed the troops for the time being in the relation of hired men to the mine-owners, was known as the "Army and Navy" Journal. A "rant" and a "rant" of the whole theory and purpose of the National Guard, and more likely to incite disorder than prevent it. One of the terms of agreement between the mine-owners and the Federation was that any recently been made public by Sherman Bell. It provides that strike funds shall be advanced, "for services and transportation of said officers and men of the National Guard, and such cooks, laborers, etc., to be used as necessary and proper to effectively conduct such military campaign." In the case of the agreement made public by Sherman Bell, the date shows that the agreement was signed by all the parties even before any call was made by Governor Peabody for troops.

Troops Come to Cripple Creek. The Board of Command Commission of the United States Army, the Cripple Creek district protested against the sending of troops into their country, claiming that the sending of troops would aid in the apprehension of the Federation, rally of soldiers, and the sending of the troops would encourage ill feeling—both the sending of the troops to the Cripple Creek district and the sending of the troops to the Cripple Creek district.

This was inaugurated the reign of terror in Cripple Creek. It was a premeditated campaign on both sides. The officials of the Western Federation walked into the trap laid for them by the state officials, and when they were the corporate influence of Colorado. The Cripple Creek mine-owners, not to blame in the beginning, joined in the war against the Western Federation when the issue was forced upon them. On a greater force were back of them. And for all that the officers, and the Federation officials, and the principal elements that had been allowed to become influential in its ranks, were as much to blame, if not more, than any other factor in the situation.

So began Cripple Creek's reign of terror. While the train bearing Adjutant General Sherman Bell, at the head of his military forces, was slowly climbing the steep mountain tracks that led to the Cripple Creek district, almost half a mile above the town, he announced that the "Cripple Creek mine-owners' association" was a "father-land" for the Western Federation, comparable to what they would get in Cripple Creek. He made his words more bitter by his military rule of the district left a bitter taste which will live as long as the present generation remains.

THE RECORD CALORIFIC

manufactured especially for the heating of large halls and public edifices, is designed to thoroughly warm the greatest amount of cold air in the least possible time. Entering the flues, as shown in the accompanying cross section of the fire pot, the cold air is taken up through this heated column which overhangs the fire, as illustrated, thus coming in direct contact with all products of combustion, and insuring a very rapid circulation. This warmed air ascending straight through the flues in which it started, can be carried direct, with practically all its heat retained, to the furthest and coldest part of the building. 108

SUNSHINE FURNACE

DIRECT DRAFT DAMPER
There is no dust nuisance in connection with the Sunshine.

Because the Sunshine is fitted with a dust line (see illustration) of felt and brush which catches the dust (no back-breaking shaking with the Sunshine) and the dust is drawn from the chimney up the dust-funnel, where it immediately ascends to the top of the dust-funnel.

Only two things to remember in connection with this operation—dampers. Sunshine is just the cleanest, simplest, easiest managed, greatest saving furnace that you can buy.

If your local dealer does not handle the "Sunshine" write direct to us for Free Booklet.

Fifteen Thousand

der to 12 hands; 1, Taylor and Spinks; 2, P. W. Abbott, Edmonton.

Hackneys.

Stallion 3 years old (gold medal)—1, Woodman, E. K. Strathly, Lacombe; 2, A. P. G. Connel, Chokoma; 3, only two entries.

In class, Woodman had a year the advantage of short, was for the most part superior in general conformation, while Airt and Strathly were at a disadvantage in movement. Woodman is a sire of the noted Guiney, a horse which won championship prize at the Hackney shows in London, England. Edmonson, half brother of Woodman has a record of winning at Agricultural Hall, London, England, three years in succession in the Hackney class.

Carriage Horses.

Team in harness to carriage not under 16 hands; 1, A. York, Edmonton; 2, Pat Turner, Wetaskiwin.

Team in harness to carriage not under 14 hands and 13 years of age (4 entries)—1, J. H. McKinley, Windsor, single mare; 2, Moffatt and McCague.

Pony, single mare or gelding to 14 hands and over under 14; 1, Ottewill, Clover Bar; 2, W. Kemp, Edmonton.

Pony, single mare or gelding to 14 hands and over under 14; 1, J. H. McKinley, Edmonton; 2, W. Kemp, Edmonton.

There was but one entry in this section but the judge said it was the most even and symmetrical horse that appeared in the ring yesterday.

Saddle Horses.

Mare or gelding under saddle—1, J. H. McKinley, Edmonton; 2, P. G. Connel, Chokoma; 3, John Withington, Spruce Grove.

Pony pony—1, Frank Higgins, Strathcona.

Saddle Horse ridden by gentleman—1, F. G. Connel, Chokoma; 2, only one entry.

Pony ridden by girl under 12—1, George Franklin, Chokoma; 2, only one entry.

Pony ridden by boy under 12 years (6 entries)—1, George Hutton, Edmonton; 2, R. F. Connel, Chokoma; 3, T. W. Graydon, Edmonton; 4, C. F. Connel, Chokoma; 5, Bert Crawford, Strathcona.

The above entries brought out a fine class of youngsters in the ponies and the boys and contributed considerably to the interest of the show and their ardors and cavorted around the ring like veterans in the Penitentiary war.

Boy rider, under 12 years (silver medal)—1, Bert Crawford, Chokoma; 2, only one entry.

Girl rider under 12 years (silver medal)—1, Gladys Case, Chokoma; 2, George Franklin, Edmonton; 3, Florenz Johnson, Edmonton.

Agriculture.

Judge: Geo. Gray, Newcastle, Ont.

This class brought a great many animals better fitted and filled out than what might have been expected when companies were made with the registered heavy draughts. It was a plain indication that the farmers of the Edmonton district are breeding and selecting for utility plus good looks to feed and fit up their horses both for show and working purposes. The individuals that took the ring were as a class sound and cleaner in body and limb and reflected credit on their exhibitors.

Bred mare with foal—1, D. Thorburn, Delisle; 2, Andy Sturgeon, Spruce Grove; 3, W. Horricks, Sturgeon; 4, F. Fisher.

Foal of 1907—1, D. Thorburn, Delisle; 2, J. Kelly Ray; 3, F. Gabel, Stoney Plain; 4, only one entry.

Mare 3 years old—1, G. Hutton, Edmonton; 2, J. Kelly Ray; 3, T. McMahon, Ray.

Team to wagon owned by resident farmers—1, F. Gibson, Sturgeon; 2, H. Hutton, Edmonton.

Filly or gelding 3 years old—1, G. Hutton, Edmonton; 2, J. Kelly Ray; 3, T. McMahon, Ray.

Filly or gelding 3 years and under three—1, W. Horricks, Sturgeon; 2, J. Kelly Ray; 3, Geo. Hutton, Edmonton; 4, A. Ziegler, Chokoma.

Filly or gelding 1 year and under year—1, F. Gabel, Spruce Grove; 2, Geo. Hutton, Edmonton.

Mare with two of her progeny—1, Frank Gibson; 2, J. Kelly Ray; 3, Thomas McMahon, Ray; 4, F. Gabel, Spruce Grove.

Registered Thoroughbreds.

There were few entries in this class, the quality of the individuals in the ring were above reproach.

Two exhibitors in this class were C. C. Bremner, Clover Bar, and Pat Turner, Wetaskiwin. Mr. Bremner's brood mare, Rosebush, was the easy winner for the red ribbon, and was most favorably commented on by Judge Fuller. She is a splendidly bred mare and a choice example of this beautiful type.

She is even and symmetrical and shows the blood that is to be expected would be hard to beat in any ring. She was imported from Lady Meux, who has bred some famous Derby winners.

Bred mare—1, C. C. Bremner, Clover Bar.

Filly or gelding, three years and over—1, C. C. Bremner, Clover Bar; 2, Pat Turner, Wetaskiwin.

Stallion, three years and over—1, Rung Chang, J. J. Jordan, Los Angeles; 2, only one entry.

Grand Championship.

Grand Champion—Filly Stallion—Gold medal, Goldolphin, Stoney Plain. Clydesdale class.

FINE DISPLAY OF CATTLE.

The cattle judging was finished Tuesday and the prizes were awarded. The judge, Mr. A. W. Smith, of Maple Lodge, Ontario, was delayed by a serious wreck on the main line of the C. P. R. east of Red Portage, in which two persons were killed, nineteen of whom were Chianians.

The Shorthorns were the first class to appear in the ring, and brought out the keenest competition of the day. Taken as a class, the exhibit was a most creditable one, and in a few places the judge had difficulty in picking the winner. Great interest was evinced by the farmers who surrounded the ring, and the general opinion was that Mr. Smith was a judge who knew his business, and his awards met with general satisfaction.

Crimson General, the famous Al-bert head bull, owned by A. F. McGill, of Lacombe, was the last of the ring. He has never been beaten in the ring yet, and has been there with all kinds of company. He had close call for the sweepstakes in Bar-burgmaster, a youngster of great promise, owned by J. H. Mellick, of Edmonton. Barburgmaster is an exceptional animal, and well matched to the proper places, showing fine quality in every respect.

Possibly the finest all round herd in this class was owned by John Ramsay, of Priddy, Alberta. He had twelve head in the various sections. His herd included a yearling bull, a brooder, and a winner at the Toronto International, and was also a prize winner. He was also a prize winner at London and Ottawa, when a yearling.

Lacorne is another fine bull of this kind, imported from G. Sheppard, of Tarves, Aberdeenshire. He was sired by Cypress, bred by Duffin, and has black and white blood well up. In the aged bull class, he was a close competitor with the best of the breed.

The young stock in Mr. Ramsay's herd are a fine class, supple and smoothly and well kept. Chas. Good is a thrifty youngster that will stand his own in any ring with the best company. Miss Front is a young heifer that was champion at the Fat Stock Show in Calgary last spring. She is a fine example of the typical Durham, and will carry the red ribbon.

Class 14—Shorthorns.

(Registration required.)

Judge: A. W. Smith, Maple Lodge, Ontario.

Bred three years or over—This class brought out five fine animals and keen competition followed in the ring. The animals were:

(1) Crimson General; owner, A. F. McGill, Lacombe.

(2) Lacorne; owner, J. Ramsay, Priddy.

(3) Red Ben; J. Mellick, Edmonton.

(4) Kenna; H. Ford, Priddy.

(5) Name unknown; owner, F. Gabel, Spruce Grove.

Bred two years and under three (two entries):

(1) Barna Robinson; owner, John A. Ramsay, Priddy.

(2) Kenna; owner, J. Ramsay, Priddy.

Bred one year and under two (two entries):

(1) Barburgmaster; owner, J. H. Mellick, Lacombe.

(2) Name unknown; owner, J. Ramsay, Priddy.

Bred six months and under six months (two entries):

(1) Lord Lacorne; owner, John Ramsay, Priddy.

(2) Bull call (unnamed); owner, A. F. McGill, Lacombe.

Bred four years and over (two entries):

(1) Lady Riverside; owner, John Ramsay, Priddy.

(2) Howie's Queen; owner, John Ramsay, Priddy.

Heifer, two years and under (one entry):

(1) Lady Lyall; A. F. McGill, Lacombe.

Heifer, one year and under (one entry):

(1) Miss Trout, John Ramsay, Priddy.

Mare (unnamed); John A. Ramsay, Priddy.

Mare 3 years old; six months and under twelve months; Duchess of Lincoln; John Ramsay, Priddy.

Heifer call under six months; unnamed; A. F. McGill, Lacombe.

Heifer call under three females (one entry); John Ramsay—Bull, Lady Riverside; Duchess of Lincoln; Lacorne; and Howie's Queen.

Bull, any age (four entries), gold medal; This was the occasion for a close contest among the winners in previous sections. Judge Smith had considerable handling and comparison before making the award.

The judge highly commended J. H. Mellick's young bull, Barburgmaster, saying the award might be reversed in another year. He is a bull of great promise and outcome, and will develop into a star prize winner.

Best bull and two of his got $20 (two entries). Award to John Ramsay, Priddy—Barnas, Chas. Good's and Duchess of Lincoln.

Bull, any age (C. P. special); (1) J. H. Mellick (Barburgmaster); (2) John Ramsay (Chas. Good's); (3) Howie's Queen; (4) J. Ramsay (Duchess of Lincoln).

Two years and under three years (C. P. special); John Ramsay (Chas. Good's); (2) J. Ramsay (Duchess of Lincoln); (3) C. Mellick (Barburgmaster); (4) J. Ramsay (Duchess of Lincoln); (5) C.
